[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO OCTOBER 26

The Fifteenth Amendment in Nebraska.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—An Omaha special says that the published statement that the Nebraska Legislature ratified the Fifteenth Amendment last March is incorrect. The Legislature adjourned without action in February. The Governor will probably call an extra session this winter.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—It is stated that J. D. Vermilyea and Folger having declined becoming General Butterfield's successor, Van Dyke has been tendered the position.

Returns have been received from more than two thirds of all the Presbyteries ratifying the reunion of the Presbyterian church by the required majority. The two General Assemblies will meet in Pittsburg, Nov. 10th, and count the votes and declare the result.

The final payment of the 75 per cent to the creditors of the Gold Exchange Bank will be made to-morrow, when the receivership terminates and the bank will pass into the control of its officers. The bank comes out with a loss of surplus and about half its capital.

A meeting of the stock holders of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express is called for Nov. 15th to consider the question of increasing the capital stock from ten to fifteen millions.

Nearly all the operators on the Franklin telegraph in this city struck for such an increase of salaries as will make them equal to those paid by other companies.

H. H. Van Dyke, former Sub Treasurer, and Calvin Thurlbord, are named as successors to Butterfield. The new Marshal, S. Harlow, was ex-Marshal Barlow's chief deputy. The Post says Barlow's resignation was on account of distaste for the duties of the office and a desire to continue uninterrupted in the practice of the law.

It is reported that Father Hyacinthe starts west next week.

Jay Gould gave evidence on the gold conspiracy case before the grand jury to day.

An armed force of internal revenue officers seized several distilleries in Brooklyn to day. The officers were met by a crowd of ruffians, armed with brickbats and clubs, who were soon driven off.

A man supposed to be insane, a depositor in the Citizens' Savings Bank, attempted to shoot the paying teller to-day because he refused to pay money without the production of his bank book. Two shots were fired, not taking effect.

The machinists employed by the Erie Railroad Co., Jersey City, struck again this morning.

The Social Science Association commenced their 5th annual session to-day. Several addresses were delivered.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The President this morning appointed S. A. Harlow U. S. Marshal for the southern district of New York, vice Barlow resigned.

Secretary Boutwell this morning received Assistant Treasurer Butterfield's letter of resignation, and shortly afterward went to the executive mansion, and had a consultation with the President on the subject. Up to noon nothing transpired relative to the matter. Boutwell was at the State Department and Attorney General's office during the forenoon. No formal Cabinet meeting was had to-day, though the members were at the White House this morning.

The President and Mrs. Grant leave Washington for Philadelphia this afternoon.

In the Supreme Court to-day the counsel for Yerger asked leave, on account of arrangements in progress between them and the Attorney General, to postpone the motion for further proceedings until a subsequent day. The Chief Justice replied that he would consider the matter and answer to-morrow.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that vintners are not subject to special tax as liquor dealers for selling their own products at the place of manufacture.

General McMahon, late Minister to Paraguay, is now in Washington on business connected with the State Department. His proceedings as Minister are approved on the ground that they show that his course was marked by commendable diligence, discretion, dignity and firmness. The General confirms the reports of the allies firing on his party while with a Paraguayan flag of truce, and their prevention of dispatches from and to the Government, with the exception of that for his recall from Paraguay which they permitted to be promptly forwarded. He thinks the present position for Lopez stronger than heretofore, and the announcement by the allies of the war being ended, is simply a pretext for the withdrawal of invading troops. The Paraguayans conduct the war without money, and make their own cannon, powder and other hostile appliances while the troops plant and gather crops. The Uraguayans have scarcely contributed a regiment, the Argentine Confederation 4,000 or 5,000. 22,000 or 24,000 are Brazilians. A Paraguayan vessel is now guarding or in possession of Assuncion. Their numbers are about two thousand. It is composed in small parts of deserters to the allies and Paraguayan prisoners of war have been compelled to enter the service together with an equal number of Brazilians. The provisional government is regarded as inefficient by all familiar with its history, and as not promising stability. Lopez is represented by General McMahon to be possessed of fine administrative abilities and not more cruel in war than the most complaining of allied Generals. The devotion of the people to Lopez is unexampled. They are not only obedient, but always ready to incur any risk and make any sacrifice demanded by him. Lopez contemplates the restoration of prosperity to his country by immigrants from the United States, to whom he will offer inducements to settle there by grants of land.

Thomas Ewing is now fully restored to health, mental and physical.

By command of General Sherman, the board of officers assembled at St. Louis for revision of tactics, of which Major General J. M. Schofield is President, will, in addition to duties assigned them, also examine and report on the best small arms and accoutrements for use of the army of the United States. This board act in conjunction with the board of naval officers, and will endeavor, if possible, to adopt small arms of pattern and calibre suitable to both branches of service with common ammunition and parts interchangeable.

A rough estimate, based on returns thus far received of the public debt statement for October, shows a reduction of $8,000,000.

The Cuban Privateer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The case of the officers of the Cuba was resumed before the Commissioner to-day. Counsel for the defense wanted to introduce the testimony of the officers, which was objected to by counsel for the Government. The Commissioner finally decided to admit their testimony. No important testimony has been elicited thus far.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—The Deputy Marshal arrested to day two men belonging to an extensive band of counterfeiters. He captured several thousand dollars in national currency. Two others of the same gang were arrested last night at Osgood, Indiana, by Col. Whitely of the secret service, with a large amount of counterfeit money.

Louisville Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 26.—Advices from a number of tobacco growing counties, state that recent frauds have seriously injured the increased crop. Other crops are correspondingly affected.

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Kentucky met here to-day. The attendance was greater than ever before in the history of the lodge. The session will be of great importance.

From Cuba.

HAVANA, Oct. 26.—La De Cuba, a liberal journal, praises the decree establishing rights of freedom, and expects much beneficial results for the country, believing that under them the Catholic religion will revive and atheism, now so prevalent, will be annihilated.

The Prensa briefly refers to the decree and comments neither way.

The Prensa expresses dissatisfaction, but accepts the decree because it is now the law.

The Colonial Minister in Madrid, in answer to a telegram from Havana, says the Ministers are resolved to take no important action touching the social or political reforms in the colonies till parties interested are heard.

Two Feet of Snow in Canada.

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—Four inches of snow here this morning. At Walkerton, Port Elgin and other points north and west about two feet has fallen. It is still snowing.

The local Parliament of Quebec is convoked for the 18th of November; the Dominion Parliament for the 15th of February.

Damage to Tobacco Crops.

EVANSVILLE, Oct. 26.—Advices from Indiana, Illinois and Northern Kentucky state that all tobacco not housed and not cured, or protected by fires was badly damaged by being frozen. The loss is great.

Miscellaneous.

AUGUSTA, Oct. 26.—The Governor left here today without having made any appointment of U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Fessenden.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—The trial of Grier alias H. Ward for robbing the messenger of Harden's Express Company at Baltimore, was up to-day. He plead "guilty."

BUFFALO, Oct. 26.—It commenced snowing last night. A severe snow storm is now prevailing here.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 26.—The New Masonic Hall in Allegheny City was dedicated by Masonic ceremonies this afternoon, Grand Master Richard Vaux officiating. A banquet will be given by the Grand Lodge to night.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

PARIS, Noon, Oct. 26.—The city is tranquil. Government had taken precaution to guard against disorder, but no manifestation is likely to occur. At six o'clock P. M. the city remained perfectly tranquil. Up to this hour the threatened demonstration was not made.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Acton S. Aytoun succeeds Layard as Commissioner of Public Works and Buildings. James Stansfeld, M. P., has been appointed under Secretary of the Treasury, vice Aytoun, and Jordan replaces James Moncrieffe as Lord Advocate.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Baron Von Derheydt, Minister of Finance, has resigned.

MADRID, Oct. 26.—It is reported that Serrano is threatening to resign the Regency, because of a rupture between the unionists and progressionists.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 26.—The Chinese Embassy, after having visited the capitals of Denmark, Norway and Sweden, left to-day for the Netherlands.

FRESHEST GLEANINGS.

Rio Janeiro advices state that it is impossible to say whether the Paraguayan war is or is not at an end. However, the provisional government has issued two pompous decrees declaring Lopez the enemy of mankind and outlawed, and denouncing all his followers traitors.

The long talked of reforms in the civil service are not forgotten by the people of Philadelphia. A large number of influential citizens, including the principle mercantile firms, have addressed a memorial to their Representatives in Congress, recommending the support of Mr. Jenckes' bill.

The Concord Statesman gives a list of eighty-five women and fifty-one men who have died in New Hampshire a hundred years old and upwards. Six were colored persons, and only four of the one hundred and thirty-six had double names. One woman, who had died at one hundred and one years of age had a daughter who died at one hundred and two.

The late English Ordnance Survey of the great pyramid of Egypt has dispelled the extravagant nonsense which has been written about the divine origin of weights and measures. The average length of the four sides of the pyramid's base was 9,120 inches, which is exactly equal to 360 Egyptian cubits. This round number Cheops hit upon without knowing or caring about the earth's dimensions.

Mosby, of Virginia, is a tremendously warlike genius. He has an appetite for fighting and plunder and cracker stealing that nothing can appease, as the bushwhacking part of the history of the war will abundantly show, and now, when in the piping times of peace he should be enjoying his laurels sub tegmine fagi, he is desperately running around trying to get himself hanged by shooting a sheriff.

Cincinnati is excited over the Davenport Brothers, who are exhibiting there. One of the papers has given a translation, several columns long, of the exposure of the imposture by a German, who discovered their method when they were in Europe. The form of the knots and the mode of escape from them are shown by the aid of diagrams. The jugglery is highly successful in drawing full houses notwithstanding the disclosures.

The New York Express says: "Those who happen in the vicinity of one of our evening schools about the time the scholars are dismissed to go home will be astonished by the great number of tobacco smokers who go as pupils. About two thirds of the males light a cigar or pipe the moment they emerge into the open air, and of these imitators of Sir Walter Raleigh, many are not above ten years of age." The young idea is taught there not to shoot, but tobacco.

The Naval appropriation bill of the last Congress gave $50,000 for deepening the entrance to the harbor of the Midway Islands in the Pacific Ocean, so as to afford a safe rendezvous and port of refuge for naval and merchant vessels of the United States. The contract for the work has been given to George W. Townsend, of Boston, who is to perform the service under the direction of Admiral Turner, commanding the Pacific fleet. The dredging will commence at once.

Richard Weaver, of London, the famous lay preacher to the poor, is becoming almost as famous in England as Whitefield was 130 years ago. He lately preached at Ascot, where people came from all parts of the surrounding country to hear him. The whole congregation listened with great attention, many standing with streaming eyes, as he spoke of what he himself had witnessed of the power of the Gospel. Invitations crowded upon him far beyond his power to accept.

The material growth of the South during the last four years is strikingly shown by the editorials in some of the Southern papers. The official figures at the Department estimate that the cotton crop of the Southern States this year will be worth $210,000,000 while the total value of the exports of the South is set down at $328,500,000. At this rate, the value of Southern products is about $31 52 per head for the entire Southern population. These figures go to show that the South is even now the richest section of the country.

The whole number of copies of the report on agriculture for 1867, printed by order of Congress, is 223,000. The following curious calculation of the superficial area of the edition has been made. The length of one copy is 9½ inches long, 6 inches wide and 2 inches thick. If the whole of the copies are of the same dimensions, the length of shelving necessary to put them on as bookcases put on libraries will be five miles, two furloughs, fifty one yards and two feet. If the whole number were to be laid down flat on the ground along side of each other they would extend a distance of twenty one miles, two hundred and six yards and two feet. And further, if the whole number of copies were laid flat, touching each other, they would cover a surface measuring one acre three roods, twenty eight yards and one and one quarter feet.

"Clerk," said a tall Kentuckian to a hotel official, "this young woman and me have eloped. Have you any marrying facilities around here?"

The clerk replied in the affirmative, and the two were spliced in less than an hour. The bridegroom was evidently not yet satisfied, and lingered around the hotel book.

"Clerk," said he confidentially at length, "hadn't you better change the register and give us one room, now we're married?"

"Its already done," replied the clerk, "you're marked for the same room."

"Well, clerk," replied the Kentuckian, quickly, "won't you just show me up, then, for I'm awful sleepy.

THE WEST.

The total value of bullion from the Ida Elmore mine, at Owyhee, received at San Francisco during the month of September, was $41,305 81.

The Legislature of Washington Territory has passed an act authorizing the Thurston County Commissioners to borrow $20,000, for the purpose of building a court house and jail.

The Olympia Transcript has been presented with some good sound apples of last years' growth. They are of the American Pippin variety, and look like they would keep a year or two longer.

A society of considerable numbers has been formed at Seattle, of the Plymouth Congregationalists, and have requested Rev. John F. Damon to become their pastor. He has accepted the call.

J. S. Long, sentenced to be hung on the 3d inst., at Red Bluffs, California, escaped from the Tehama county jail a day or two before the day set for execution and has not returned.

It is announced that a man has arrived at Boise City with thirty Cayuse ponies, which he will sell, trade, bet on a race or, as they are bucking stock, he will "buck" off at faro. A local paper exclaims, "Go for him, boys!"

From the Owyhee Wave: W. H. Clark, Superintendent of the Red Jacket and second extension south of Golden Chariot, has taken a contract to get out five hundred tons of Twilight ore in Flint. The work will involve the running of an 84 foot tunnel before striking the ledge.

An Idaho paper reports that the mines on Loon Creek continue to pay well. Mr. John Ward says the camp will be of great importance and will produce much money next year. New claims are being opened every day, and they all pay well. For some weeks after the rush to the mines money was very scarce, but now it is quite plenty. Some very fine specimens have already been taken out.

A Victoria paper says that the heaviest auction sale the North Pacific has ever known will be held on the 22d of December next, when the B. C. & V. I. Mills, Burrard Inlet, land claims and steamer Isabel will come under the hammer of Mr. Franklin. The mills, and steamer, with improvements, cost about $160,000. The company have gone into liquidation and the sale is peremptory.

An Owyhee paper says: Hyman & Rot[illegible]burg made their first shipment from New York on the 21st day of September by way of Kelton and the Snake river route. It is proposed to follow Hailey's stage road as far as the crossing of Snake river, thence down the south side to the Bruneau, where they will diverge to the southwest and come in by Jennings ranch on Catharin creek, and into Silver by what is known as the Scotch Bob road.

Walla Walla journalism is getting almost as bad as that of California. One of the papers there says of its antagonist: "Let all men get to the windward of this putrid mass of soap-grease, and take a good look and be warned. Do not as he does, and you will be not as he is. If our dropsical friend could only 'see himself as others see him,' he would never again write the word 'deformity.'"

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 28, 1869.

Nothing to be Thankful For Several Democratic papers, including the Herald, allude in bitter terms to the President's proclamation of thanksgiving. They can see nothing to be thankful for. To them, the national prospect is exceedingly gloomy, and all because they haven't the offices. It is their opinion that the country is ruled by a powerful and oppressive despotism. Liberty is being rapidly crushed by the relentless hand of tyranny; the people are agonizing under their load of taxation, and all the pillars of national prosperity are shaken. Everything wears a funeral hue, and not one ray of light illumines the sad cypress gloom that covers the land. Such being the Democratic opinion, thanksgiving is mere mockery. But if their party could once get into power and repudiate the national debt and reduce the "nigger" to his "normal sphere," they would feel very happy and would devoutly return thanks for blessings received and enjoyed. It is curious to observe that though the Democratic press has long been trying to inculcate the idea that the country is on the road to ruin and that the people are ruthlessly despoiled by despots, most of the people have not yet found it out. Judged from a Democratic standpoint, they appear to be laboring under a strange delusion. With good crops, an abundance of the comforts of life and money in their pockets, they are foolish enough to think they are prosperous and have cause for thanksgiving. Not so, however, with the wailing Jeremiahs of Democracy. The resolutions of '98 are trampled upon, and they are disconsolate. The negro is no longer a slave, but a citizen and voter, and they refuse to be comforted. On these grounds, if we may believe the Democratic press, their party will not join in the national thanksgiving this year.

Startling Discoveries.

The Oregon City paper fires up again on the "Chinese question," and raises the steam to an alarmingly high pitch. It is satisfied that the "Radicals" design to give the Chinese the elective franchise, because they have given it to the negro; though it is happy to observe that the negro in the Southern States is now becoming a Democratic voter. Perceiving that they have lost the negro vote, the "Radicals," according to the oracle at Wallamet Falls, are determined to make good the loss by enfranchising the Chinese. But does this oracle suppose that the "Radicals" are such fools as to give the ballot to the Chinese, so as to enable the Democratic party to get their votes also? For these "pagan slaves" would surely vote Democratic, just as the lower and more ignorant class of negroes in the South are doing. The "Radicals" are not quite so green.

Again, we are told that "we have had Chinese laborers on this coast for some time; yet they have not opened up any new avenues of industry, or been the cause of any increased demand for white labor." The author of this statement has certainly been enjoying a Rip Van Winkle nap. Has he ever heard of the Central Pacific railroad, built by Chinese labor? Has he any knowledge of a railroad running through Oregon City, built mainly by Asiatic muscle? Do not railroads "open up new avenues of industry," and create an "increased demand for labor?" We think their history shows that this is rather their tendency. Perhaps the somnolent editor at Oregon City may have some recollections on this subject, reaching back to the times before he fell into the deep sleep which has overtaken him since he became an old fogy Democrat.

Bunsby Illustrated.

An Eastern paper takes Charles Dickens to task for his late speech on popular government. It would like to know what he meant when he declared that his faith in the people governing was infinitesimal—his faith in the people governed illimitable? The obvious interpretation of the words is that he did not believe in the people—i. e., the nation at large—governing for themselves, but that he did believe in them when they were governed by others. It appears, however, that like the apothegms of one of his own heroes, the meaning of the observation lies in the application. Mr. Dickens uttered an opinion worthy of Jack Bunsby himself, and he cannot complain if it has been misunderstood. By the "people governing" he meant the class which now governs, intending by this a blow at the aristocracy. Mr. Dickens has probably forgotten the last Reform Bill, and fails to recognize the overwhelming force which "the people," properly speaking, exercise in political affairs. What settled the Irish Church? What is moving Mr. Gladstone to deal with the Irish land difficulty? Surely it is not the sentiment of an aristocratic clique, but the irresistible sway of truly Democratic principles. Mr. Dickens never yet touched politics without blundering and in this instance he seems to have been desirous of covering his mistakes by expressing his views in unintelligible language.

In General.

Speaking of the recent election in Pennsylvania, the Oregon City paper says: "We have the humiliating spectacle of a President discarding, for the time being, the affairs of State for the purpose of making a tour through Pennsylvania for the advancement of the interest of his political party." No doubt the whole Copperhead Democracy feel the "humiliation" deeply! The President, however, made no tour of the kind. But we remember that when A. Johnson made his electioneering tour all over the United States in 1866, the Democracy were not at all "humiliated" by the "spectacle." They uttered shouts which tore the sky's concave, and threw up their hats as if they would have hung them on the horns of the moon.

The New York Times of the 13th inst. reports that there has been a great development of activity in the fall trade. The dry goods interests show increased animation, the jobbing houses reporting a more comprehensive trade at remunerative prices. Groceries have been unusually brisk, especially in the line of Rio coffee, and of raw sugars, the sales of which are very heavy. In petroleum the dealings have been very extensive, mainly for export at improved rates. The export trade of the port of New York makes a very encouraging exhibit this fall.

In an article on the controversy between free-trade and protection, the Boston Advertiser says: "It is the laboring man who is now free from foreign competition; it is the new settler in the mineral regions or at the South; it is the newly arrived emigrant of whatever calling,—who have most reason to dread the madness which would cast off our armor when we go into rivalry with the capital and workshops of the old world."

OREGON.

Baker City is said to be improving quite rapidly. An assay office will soon be established there.

Daniel Chaplin of La Grande has a radish, grown in his garden, which weighs thirty-nine and a half pounds.

The Sentinel reports that one man on Butte creek in Jackson county has killed fourteen bear during the last few days.

A man who gave his name as Malone robbed a man named Austin on Powder river last week of $120. The robber escaped.

A considerable number of miners are now at work on the bars of Snake river, east of La Grande, near Brownlee's old ferry.

John Taylor has sold out his bridge over the Tualatin and bought a farm in Yamhill county. It is probable that he will remain in Washington county.

The La Grande paper reports that Savage, one of the Blue mountain stage robbers, who escaped from the stage when being brought from Idaho, was seen at the Washoe Ferry last week.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: I. J. Allen, formerly of Portland, over 50 years of age, walked in one day, last week, 65 miles, from what is called the "Mountain House," on the Crescent City road to Tom Bell's farm in Rogue river valley. Beat that, young men with high heeled boots, if you can.

A Jacksonville paper has the following intelligence from Link river: That Mr. Nourse is building a residence near the bridge, on Link river. That the saw mill in that vicinity is not running, and lumber has to be hauled from Rogue river valley. That Link river valley has proven to be a splendid wheat-growing country; and that it is projected to build a grist mill there, next summer, and supply the valley with bread stuffs. Travel to and from Goose Lake had about subsided.

State Taxes on Railway Travel

[From the New York Times.]

The Supreme Court of the United States decided in the case of Crandall vs. the State of Nevada (6 Wallace, p. 35) that no one of the United States could impose a tax upon those who were obliged to pass through the territory of such State on their way to the National Capital. The reasoning of the Court is broad and general, and applies to every device by which such a charge may be sought to be imposed on the traveler. So that it may now be regarded as the law of the land that it is not competent for any State to take to itself any profit of those fares which a common carrier is authorized to charge for conveying passengers through its limits.

It is not likely, in view of this decision, that any State will attempt again to lay a direct tax upon such passengers. But an effort may be made to arrive at the same result by some indirect method. It is stated that some contract exists between the State of Maryland and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; by virtue of which the State claims that the railroad is bound to pay into its treasury a fifth of all the revenue which it receives from passengers traveling between Baltimore and Washington, and that this claim is not resisted by the Railroad Company. Possibly some difference can be discerned in principle between a tax imposed by the State and a sum agreed by the Company itself to be paid, but the result to the passenger is the same. He is compelled to pay one fifth more fare than he would otherwise be called upon for. One reason given by the Supreme Court for its ruling in the Nevada case was that to sustain the power to tax would be to give to a State the power to exclude citizens of other States from the capital of the nation. The same result might follow in the case of this agreement, only the power would be then given not to a State alone, but to a State and a railroad company combined. The principle which prohibited the former case ought equally to extend to the latter.

The difficulty is to reach the matter. In the Nevada case a penalty had been affixed to the refusal of any stage proprietor to collect the tax, and the matter was brought before the Courts by a person who had so refused and had been prosecuted for the penalty. But if the carrier and the State agree as to the collecting of the tax or the payment of the share of the passage money, who is to bring up the question? Transient passengers are not likely to enter upon serious litigation for such small amounts. If public sentiment is not powerful enough to prevent such combinations between States and common carriers, the only remedy would seem to be legislation. If the free passage of the citizen from one end to the other of the country is thus interfered with, it would seem to be an evil for which penal legislation on the part of Congress is the remedy.

Glass Making.

The manufacture of plate glass, rough polished or silvered, is an industry not yet fully established in this country, but one which deserves the attention of American capitalists. We do indeed produce an inferior article; but we are obliged to hear "French plate" alluded to as something far better; and yet we possess in abundance raw materials of the best quality for the manufacture.

The importations of polished plate into New York the ten years ending January 1, 1869, exceed six million cubic feet, while the quantity of rough plate imported during the same period is probably at least half as great. The silvering of the polished plates is generally done here, by the agents of the united foreign glass companies, as silvered plates are liable to be damaged in crossing the large ocean. A year or two ago, there were sixteen foreign establishments engaged in this business of which there were, in France, six; in England, six; in Germany, two; in Belgium, two. The aggregate capital of these works amounted to about fifty millions of dollars, and the annual production to nearly thirteen millions of square feet. The average cost of production varied between 38 and 54 cents gold per square foot; the average selling price in Paris was about 87 cents gold, leaving a handsome margin of profit, aside from that which is realized from the silvering of the plates. The profits upon exportation to countries where no such establishments exist are much greater.

A MONUMENT TO ADAM.—We do not know how much truth, says the New York Times, there is in the story, but it is reported that the Rev. Charles Rogers, of England, is about to get up a subscription for the erection of a monument to—Adam, the father of mankind! A company to be entitled the "Grand International Adamite Monument Association," is to be formed, and the monument is to be erected upon the supposed site of the Garden of Eden, in Mesopotamia. The expense, no doubt, will be great. It is the custom to make a monument never smaller, and generally much larger, than was the mortal body of the hero whose mortal deeds it is intended to commemorate; and, as there is a well authenticated tradition that Adam was 930 feet high, his monument cannot, in common justice, be less than 1,000 in altitude. But it is estimated that a penny subscription from each one of the surviving descendants of this truly great and good man—and it is impossible that one of them should be unwilling to contribute this small sum—would amount to enough to pay for the erection of the monument, and leave enough over to procure a handsome testimonial for Dr. Rogers, who has been the first to suggest that it was time to wipe away "the stigma long attached to humanity for having left the memory of the first hero in its history—a man whose name, fame, actions, death and spiritual influence are constantly on our lips—without a commemorative stone to tell the stranger who would appreciate it what he had done." A great many hard things have been said of Adam; but it should not be forgotten that we owe him much, and that, with all his faults, he had many virtues.

CURIOUS POLITICAL TROUBLES IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—We have already noticed the fact that the sum of $20,000 is at issue pending the proof, asserted by parties on behalf of the Republican Statesman of Concord, N. H., that Hon. George G. Fogg, editor of the Independent Democrat of that city was, as his accusers allege, a traitor to the Republican party, and that he engaged in the summer of 1868 in a conspiracy with Hon. John G. Sinclair, Democratic candidate for Governor of New Hampshire, and delegate to the Democratic National Convention at New York, to nominate Chief Justice Chase for President. Mr. Fogg to support that nomination in his newspapers. The examination in the case comes off, as we are informed, next week, at Concord, before Hon. E. H. Rollins, Chairman of the State Republican Central Committee, and Hon. Anson S. Marshall, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee—these parties being considered competent to decide the question of political treachery, or the contrary, on hearing evidence. Each party, as has been stated, has deposited $10,000 to abide the result of the hearing; but there is reported to be some difficulty as to the precise condition of the deposit. This is a novel way of deciding a political controversy. The tribunal is composed of honorable men, and their decision, no doubt, will be a fair one. If the hearing is public, it will create much excitement.—Boston Journal.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

One of the two votes in the Virginia Senate against the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment was cast by a colored member.

The people know the difference between General Grant's Peace and the Democratic P's. So they have defeated Packer and Pendleton.

The Owyhee Wave says the defeat of Pendleton is a glorious event for the country, and second only to the surrender of Lee and the downfall of the rebel Confederacy.

A Democratic paper in Eastern Oregon says: "The Radicals are talking of the horse jockey for a second term of office as President. Democrats will rejoice at his nomination." Democrats must be exceedingly anxious to meet with another defeat.

The Cincinnati Chronicle explains Pendleton's majority in that city by showing from the figures of previous elections that over 6,000 Republicans stand away from the polls. Disgust with the "ring" was the cause of their absence from political duty.

The Imperialist, a paper started in New York as a sort of fungus springing from the debris of the rebellion, and reflecting the aristocratic views of the leaders of the lost cause, has gone into the grave with the ideas and doctrines of the Confederacy it sought to revive. One by one the Democratic aids drop off and are forgotten.

The New York Herald says the recent elections may be dismissed with the conclusion that they indicate no change in the public sentiment to the prejudice of General Grant's administration, but that the two parties remain substantially as they stood last year, including the vote held in reserve, and which will be brought out next year in the elections for a new Congress.

Recent intelligence from Mississippi states that the canvass there is getting very lively. A serious disaffection has sprung up among several of the principal Democratic papers in the State. The Columbus Democrat, Holly Springs Reporter, Houston Recorder, Fort Gibson Standard, Inka Gazette and Canton Citizen bitterly oppose the Dent movement, and favor the reorganization of the Democratic party.

On the morning of the election in Pennsylvania the New York Times published the following warning: Republicans of Philadelphia look out! Democratic agents were at work in this city on Sunday and yesterday organizing bands of roughs and repeaters for service at the Philadelphia polls to-day. It was announced to the faithful that two thousand votes are wanted, and five hundred repeaters were sought to make matters sure. They are in Philadelphia now, organized and armed.

General Reynolds' order for the election in Texas provides that, in case the free and full exercise of the privilege of voting is obstructed to any registered voters whatever by disturbances at the polls, the boards shall at once close the polls, and make a full report of the circumstances to the nearest post commander, who will take immediate action to arrest the offenders and hold them in military custody until further orders. The election is not to be resumed until ordered from District Headquarters.

The New York Evening Mail, an independent paper, says: We have nothing to say in regard to the partisan aspect of the Republican victory of Ohio. What principally concerns impartial observers, like ourselves, is that the verdict of Ohio is again emphatically pronounced against everything which looks towards repudiation of our national obligations. It is true that repudiation was not made an issue, but Mr. Pendleton was believed to represent the policy of paying at least part of the debt in greenbacks.

The New Orleans Commercial is not so hopeful as some other Southern papers that the preponderance of influence which the West will possess in the next ten years will lead to antagonism between the two sections. There is, mingled with its comments on the origin of the political power of the West, a tone of admiration for the north-eastern States quite rare in the journals of the South:

"In all the leading occupations where education and capacity are required, in every vocation except those purely mechanical, the men of the West get their inspiration from the schools and colleges of New England and New York, either directly or through the medium of teachers born and educated there. The wind that fills the prosperous sails of the West is a northeaster. Go where we may in the West, look into any mill, shop, bank or great store, we will usually find the motive brain power to be in some man who was born east of the Alleghany Mountains. They are in all of the Western journals and give tone to public opinion. They make and administer the laws. They teach young and old. They are the missionaries who diffuse Eastern doctrines on all political, social, religious and secular subjects. Hence the West is politically but an extension of the East. Learning, politics and commerce in the West are as much influenced by New England as rural Massachusetts is by Boston. The East has gained in political power by the multitudes of emigrants sent to the West."

An Omaha girl whose lover would not propose fired one barrel of a revolver at him, told him she had five more left, and forced him to terms. They are now a happy couple.

HAVING DISPOSED OF ALL THE OLD STOCK OF Malt Liquors on hand when I took charge of the above Brewery I now take this means of notifying my customers and the public generally that in future I shall make nothing but the first quality of

PHILADELPHIA XXX ALE! PORTER AND XX CREAM OR STEAM ALE

All of which I flatter myself we can do to perfection. I solicit the patronage of the community, and hope at least you will all give our celebrated beverages a trial.

And in conclusion I have to say, in duty to ourselves, and to try to make a living in the community, that on and after November 1, 1869, our Beverages will be sold at the following prices: Philadelphia XXX Ale and Porter, $15 per barrel or $2 50 for Five gallons; Cream XX at $12 per barrel or $2 for Five gallons.

COMMON COUNCIL.—Wednesday evening, October 27, 1869, the Common Council of City of Portland met at the usual hour, his Honor Mayor Goldsmith presiding.

Present, Councilmen Besser, Bills, Breck, Cree, Lewis and Moffett. Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, ETC.

Petition of John Kennedy for permission to leave his house stand, partially, in the street until May 1, 1870, read and prayer thereof granted.

A communication from H. Cason giving notice of the completion of his contract to construct certain fire cisterns was read and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Remonstrance of H. Bories and others against the proposed change of grade on Morrison street, read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A communication from the Chief Engineer calling attention to the cisterns in need of repairs was read and referred to the Committee on Fire and Water, with instructions to have the repairs made.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

The following bills of expenses incurred in the late reception of Hon. W. H. Seward were ordered paid: Emil, Lowenstein & Co., $6 00; Cosmopolitan Hotel, $39 50; S. J. McCormick, $25 05; American Exchange, $30 00, R. E. Ford, $45 25; Fannie Troupe, $21 00; Geo. Vincent, $3 50; P. D. & H. Co., $48 00; Walter Bros., $4 00.

The bill of Logan, Shattuck & Killin, $125 00, was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

The bill of Jos. Tucker, $73 75, was paid less $30 60.

Warrants were ordered drawn in favor of the following parties for amounts named: W. H. Farmer, $7 00; E. J. Northrup & Co., $1 00; J. B. Congle, $4 00; Eagle Foundry, $29 10; R. Sorter, $4 00; P. D. & H. Co., 3 50; Oregon Herald, $73 25.

For work on street improvements, P. G. Baker, $77 22; Johnson Bros., $123 50; Estes & Stimson, $3,060 23.

ORDINANCES.

Ordinance making an appropriation out of the general fund to supply certain deficiencies in the appropriation for general expenses, read a first and second time; rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

Ordinance appropriating $300 out of the street lamp fund to defray the expense of constructing and repairing lamps and lamp posts, read a first and second time; rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

Ordinance declaring the probable cost of improving Front street from Main to Madison, read a first and second time; rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

Ordinance making an appropriation out of the fund for the improvement of Front street, read a first and second time; rule suspended, ordinance read a third time and passed.

Ordinance defining the duties and powers of the City Recorder, read a first and second time, and referred to the Committee on Health and Police, with instructions to report thereon at the next meeting of the Council.

Councilman Lewis offered a substitute for the ordinance entitled, an ordinance to amend an ordinance entitled an ordinance to establish a day and night police in the City of Portland, which was read a first and second time at the last meeting. The substitute was read for information, printed and referred to the committee on Health and Police.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Street Commissioner, by resolution, was instructed to notify all property owners in the vicinity of the School House on Harrison street to [illegible] the adjoining streets without delay.

The Auditor was directed to issue warrants for the collection of delinquent assessments on C street.

Warrants were ordered drawn to pay for the improvement of the public property on Jefferson street.

The City Surveyor was instructed to make a [illegible] survey of Washington street, west of Park street, with a view to establish the grade [illegible].

The following was adopted:

Whereas, The Military Commander of this Department has signified his willingness to allow the 23d Infantry band to give occasional public musical entertainments on the Plaza in this city, it was

Resolved, That the Committee on Streets and Public Property be authorized to have a stand of suitable dimensions erected for the accommodation of the said Band, at a cost not exceeding $100.

On motion of Councilman Bills the Council adjourned.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE PORTLAND WORKINGMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—The following resolutions were passed by the Workingmen's Association of this city:

1st. That this institution shall be hailed and known as the "Portland Workingmen's Protective Association."

2d. That the officers of this Association shall be as follows: One President, three Vice Presidents, one Secretary, one Financial Secretary and one Treasurer.

3d. That the object of this Association is to discourage Chinese labor in every department, and by all the means within our power to stop the vast tide of Mongolian emigration that is now directing its course toward the Pacific shore.

4th. That if any member of this Association be taken sick and incapable of helping himself, and such sickness shall not be caused by his own indiscretion, he shall immediately notify the Secretary, who shall detail members to wait upon him daily until the patient is convalescent.

5th. That if any member of this association is at present boarding at any hotel or boarding house employing Chinese labor, he shall notify the proprietor that if he retains such help for more than one month from this date, the members of this association will be compelled to leave.

6th. That if any business man in this city shall employ any Chinese in any capacity whatsoever, no member of this association shall trade with him.

7th. That a committee of nine members of this association shall be appointed, three from each ward, whose duty it shall be to look after the welfare of this association.

8th. That the entrance fee for membership in this Association shall be fifty cents, and dues per month twenty-five cents.

9th. That no subject of a political or religious nature shall be discussed before this Association during the transaction of business.

10th. That if any member of this Association shall violate any of the above resolutions, he shall be subject to such punishment as the majority of the members present at any regular meeting may determine.

THOS. JOHNSTON,
A. GRANT,
THOS. HEASON, Committee.

NEWS UP THE COLUMBIA.—We obtain the following paragraphs from the Walla Walla Union:

Business of all kinds seems lively of late. Large quantities of produce are coming in and sells readily at a fair price. All of our merchants have bought large stocks of goods, which are just beginning to arrive, and [illegible] but impress one with the belief that these men [illegible] with their business and with the country. All kinds of valley produce are being shipped in large [illegible] to the upper country, thereby making business [illegible] and packers unusually good. Times are better and money more plenty in Walla Walla than for a long time past.

We are informed by knowing ones that there has been more lumber sold in the last six months than there was in two years prior to that time. The demand for good habitable dwelling houses exceed the supply, and men are daily inquiring for such, but they are scarce, all being [illegible], and although there has been quite a number built and still more in course of construction, yet, if people keep pouring into town as fast as they have been for a while past, houses will still be scarce.

Mr. H. M. Hodges, of the Wallula ferry, informs us that this fall he has ferried about twenty-five families across the Columbia river, who were going to the Yakima to settle, and that a much larger number have crossed at [illegible] ville and the Dalles, and he estimates that not less than one hundred claims have been taken up this fall. This fine valley, so well adapted to farming and stock raising, will soon have a heavy population, which it can well support.

We learn that this week there was a party who had just come from the States over the supposed route of the Northern Pacific Railroad, who passed down the Walla Walla river, and took the numbers of all the vacant lands in the vicinity of Wallula. They seem to keep their own counsel, but the impression is that they are entering these lands in anticipation of their increased value when Wallula shall become a terminus.

OREGON GOODS TO EUROPE.—The firm of Corbitt & Macleay, of this city, who have the charter of the Adeline Elwood for Liverpool, are sending one hundred cases of Columbia river salmon, in tins and kegs a part to England and a part to Scotland—for the purpose of introducing that article to the markets of the Old World. Scotland has some salmon of her own, but they are inferior to ours, and so scarce as to be ranked among the luxuries of the table, and not to be indulged in except by the wealthy. England has no salmon worth mentioning. It is believed that, once introduced, our Columbia river salmon will be in such demand as to make a market for all we have to send away.

Mr. Macleay also sends a pair of immense elk horns procured from Tillamook, and perhaps the largest and finest pair ever sent out of the State—to the Royal Botanical Gardens, at Kew, London. The museum at Kew is made up of contributions by Britons abroad, each article being set up and labelled with the name of the contributor and the country where produced or found. We can imagine that the subjects of her Britanic Majesty will open their eyes in genuine astonishment and admiration at a pair of horns so large and spreading as to require the room of a medium sized modern parlor, in which to display their majestic proportions. What with our wheat, our salmon and our horns, sent by the Elwood, we think Oregon will be somewhat advertised by this venture of Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay.

DISTINGUISHED ODD FELLOW.—Fred D. Stuart, Deputy Grand Sire of the Grand Lodge of the United States, is at present, in this city. He arrived here, overland from California, on Tuesday and the same evening visited Samaritan Lodge No. 2 having been invited and received by a committee appointed for that purpose. The lodge had a second meeting last night, for the purpose of receiving instructions, and to enjoy a social reunion. Mr Stuart called upon us early in the evening and spent a half hour in very agreeable chat. We find him a plain, sensible, companionable man, strongly marked with that peculiar quality of heart which has given Odd Fellowship such a hold upon the world. We learn from him that in early life, he was in the naval service and that he was with the Wilkes exploring and surveying expedition which entered the Columbia river in 1842. When he reaches Astoria, he will find memorials of that expedition, still remaining. At Cape Disappointment, as we are informed by Capt. Flavel, the spouts used by Commodore Wilkes' men in taking in water, are still to be seen. To see and talk with Mr. Stuart is almost like seeing and speaking with one come down from antiquity. When here first, the country was but a wilderness—literally a "howling wilderness." Now he finds it populated, civilized, grown into an empire, comparatively speaking, and he says he finds it difficult to realize that it is not all the work of enchantment. Mr. Stuart will leave us by the steamer Moses Taylor for San Francisco, and thence by rail for his home in Washington City. His visit here will be long remembered by the brothers in Odd Fellowship. He had intended to return home by way of Idaho, and to visit the lodges there, but finds that his time has become too short to allow of tarrying for any more visits.

LOCAL BREVITIES.—The laying of the Nicolson pavement on Front street has been completed.

The steamship Moses Taylor is still at East Portland unloading railroad iron.

The bark A. Heaton is out from New York one hundred and fifty days, and is overdue.

B. F. Dennison, District Judge of Washington Territory, has been staying in this city for two or three days.

George Maxwell, who was burned by the gas explosion a few days since, is able to be out again.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church had a pleasant sociable at the basement of the church last evening.

Kent's patent spading machine has been tested within the last two or three days and found to work satisfactorily.

The P. T. Co. is engaged in clearing out the obstructions in the river, at Rock Island.

The bark Hattie C. Besse the Captain informs us, will sail for Hong Kong about Nov. 15th. She will commence receiving freight in a day or two.

DALLES.—From the Mountaineer we learn the mint building is progressing finely.

During the last week the nights have been quite cold, with frost nearly every morning.

The Justice's Court has been trying a long and vexatious succession of criminal cases, in which a dozen or more Chinamen were defendants.

Rev. Gustavus Hines has assumed the pastorate of the M. E. church.

The public school is in a most prosperous condition, the number of pupils being greater than the house can comfortably accommodate.

SALEM.—From the Statesman of Wednesday, 27th:

Wheat is being brought to the Salem mills in flat boats from the upper river.

A number of emigrants came up on the boat Monday evening, who have made their way by land and water to Oregon, and are looking out for home spots.

The river at the present moment is lower than it was during the lowest stage last summer and is still falling. It is now lower than the oldest steamboatmen ever knew it. * * * The Success is employed in driving piles to make permanent wing dams in place of those washed out.

THE FIRST SPIKE.—We are authorized to announce that the "first spike" in the Oregon Central Railroad will be driven at East Portland at 1 o'clock this afternoon—the first spike in the permanent main line. There will be appropriate ceremonies, accompanied by firing of cannon, a band of music, etc.

The piece of track laid down the other day is, of course, only for temporary purposes—the landing of material. The main line will be commenced to-day, and the 28th October is to be the day from which Oregon will date her "new era."

MUSIC FOR THE MILLION.—The Infantry Band was out on the Plaza yesterday afternoon furnishing music for the million, though there were something less than a million people there. That, however, was not the fault of the band. The new feature of public days of recreation and music, is spoken of generally with delight. We heard yesterday, too, quite a general expression in favor of having the Plaza fixed up at the city's expense so that it might become a pleasant resort.

CIRCUIT COURT, CLACKAMAS COUNTY.—We learn that on Tuesday and yesterday, quite a number of cases on trial in this Court were disposed of. The grand jury found an indictment against Frank Vaughn for murder in the first degree; trial set for Thursday morning. John Walch and John Chinaman were indicted for an assault with a dangerous weapon. The grand jury were still in session last evening.

"OREGON STYLE" OUTDONE.—The Walla Walla papers—the Statesman and Union—are engaged in a Billingsgate tilt at each other, in which the "Oregon style" is totally eclipsed. In the talent of blackguardism and in the hurling of concentrated filth, these champions are becoming almost worthy to rank with those editors of California who have made the "California style" renowned and infamous.

ORO FINO THEATRE.—The play of "The Streets of New York" will be presented for the last time to-night. The lovers of the sensation drama should improve the opportunity to see it. Mr. Carter, the manager, intends to hasten with the attractions of the season and will not keep any piece on till it drags. "The Streets of New York" is a play that no one should miss seeing.

RACE TO-DAY.—At the Riverside track to-day, trotting race between Put. Smith's "General," Knapp's black mare, entered by Smiley, and Sherlock's "Mohawk"—mile heats, three in five. These animals are all good goers; but it would be a "scratch" if anybody were to name the winner, before the trial. There will be, doubtless, plenty of sport. Race at 2 o'clock P. M.

GOING TO GERMANY.—Mr. Isaac Rosenfeld, who has long been in business in this city, will, with his family, leave by the Moses Taylor for a trip to "Faderland," on account of impaired health. Should he recover, he says we may look for him back again in a year or two.

FOR LIVERPOOL.—The bark Adeline Elwood, with wheat for Corbitt & Macleay, will sail for Liverpool to-day. She takes 20,000 bushels—all, or nearly all, of the old crop.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Moses Taylor will sail for San Francisco at five o'clock this afternoon.

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamer Geo. S. Wright will sail for Victoria and Puget Sound, on Saturday.

EVERYBODY IS OUT SHOPPING these days, and it is just the time to get the Fall and Winter Styles. It is almost impossible to pass the splendid store of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91, Front street, without being drawn in by the attraction of those charming New Suits, and the enormous piles of elegant clothing and fancy goods of every description and quality. They have, unquestionably, the largest stock and best assortment of goods that can be found in the city of Portland. Messrs. Kohn & Fishel bring their goods direct from New York, and sell as cheap as the cheapest.

All's Well that Ends Well

Some years ago, I knew a lapidary who gained a considerable fortune by a great misfortune An excellent workman honest as the day, Montin had but one fault he was too fond of good wine, which caused him to neglect his work—sometimes for days together, to the great dissatisfaction of his employer, who in all other respects valued and esteemed him highly, both for his skill and probity

One day Montin received from his master a diamond of the finest water to cut and polish, with strict recommendations to keep sober until the work was finished

"I rely on your activity, said the jeweller on giving him the stone, "I must have it without fail, on the 15th inst and if you disappoint me this time it will be the last you will have from me.'

Montin promised exactitude, asked, as was usual with him, part of his pay in advance and set himself courageously at work Under his skillful hand, the diamond began to show forth its beauty, in a few more hours it would have been finished, when, unfortunately for Montin's resolutions, a friend called on him an old comrade who had been long absent from Paris, what could they do but take a glass together? Arrived at the cabaret, the time passed quickly away and Montin thought no more of his unfinished work,

During the morning his employer came to see how the polishing of the diamond proceeded. The concierge assured him that Montin had only just gone out, and would not fail to return directly, as he had for some days been working steadily and unremittingly Only half satisfied, the jeweller went away to return in two hours and to find Montin still absent. Convinced that he was at the tavern, the master charged one of his men to seek him and induce him to come to his work. This was done, and Montin grumbling between his teeth, quitted his comrade, and ascended to his workshop, but his head was no longer clear, nor his hand steady. To add to his trouble, the diamond became unfixed, he seized it hastily to replace it; his trembling fingers gave a jerk—and, by a strange fatality, the precious stone flew out of the window! Sobered in a moment by this terrible accident, Montin continued gazing out of the casement as if petrified, his pale lips murmuring the words, "lost! lost! lost!"

For more than an hour he remained almost motionless, and was only roused from his lethargy by the entrance of his master

"Is it thus you work, Montin?" exclaimed he, "three times have I called for the diamond, and you spend your time at the tavern Give me the stone; I must have it, finished or unfinished"

Montin looked wildly at him without uttering a word.

"What is the matter with you?' asked the jeweller, "Why don't you answer? Have you drunk all your senses away?'

The lapidary tried in vain to speak His tongue seemed paralyzed At last he rose and hiding his face in his hands, murmured 'It—is—lost!"

"Explain yourself. What has happened?

"Out of the window '

"What! When?'

"The stone"

"Well, well, well! tell me what has occurred."

"The stone flew out '

It was now the turn of the master to become silent with astonishment then furious with rage, he cried

"I don't believe a word of your story you have sold my diamond to pay for your dissipation"

This accusation was the coup de grace for Montin He fell fainting at the feet of his master, and it was not without difficulty that he was recalled to life, or rather to a despair which amounted almost to madness The jeweller, who understood what was passing in his mind, tried to console him, and at last succeeded in rendering him more calm

"It is a most unfortunate accident no doubt," said he, "but it is not irreparable

"You do not, then, believe that I sold your diamond for drink?" said Montin, eagerly

"No, no, Montin; you must forget what I said in the first moment of anger, and let us try to find a remedy for the misfortune The diamond was worth £200; you must endeavor to repay me the half of that sum out of your wages, which, when you work regularly amounts to £3 or £4 a week With industry and sobriety you will soon get out of debt'

"From this time I will work steadily said Montin, with tears in his eyes 'You shall see, sir, that though I have been a drunkard I am not a thief."

"I believe you," replied the jeweler 'I have every confidence in you, you are a good workman, I will furnish you with plenty of work, and in a few years you will be right again Well! will that suit you?"

"Oh yes, sir! only tell me once more that you do not think I sold the diamond

"I repeat, on my honor that I only said so in the first moment of anger I am convinced you are an honest man—in fact I prove it by trusting you with more work

'Yes, sir, that is true and I promise you I will not disappoint you I will repair my fault the lesson has been severe but it will not be without its fruits'

Montin kept his word—he rose early and worked indefatigably the lost stone was replaced by another, which was polished as if by enchantment. Faithful to his promise he went no more to the tavern and became a model of steadiness and industry At the end of the year he had paid a considerable part of his debt. Sixteen months passed thus when one fine morning in May having finished his work, he placed himself at the window and watched the boats passing and repassing on the river which flowed close to the walls of the house Suddenly his eye was attracted by something bright glittering on the extreme edge of an old chimney. What was his surprise to discover his half-polished diamond It seemed as if a breath would precipitate it into the water beneath, and yet there it had been for so many months suspended between heaven and earth!

At this sight his emotion became almost as great as on the day when he had seen it disappear out of the window he dared not remove his eyes, fearing to lose sight of the almost recovered treasure

"It is—it is my diamond which has cost me so many tears, said he, but how shall I reach it! If it were to fall! But no I will take every precaution not too fast let me consider well!

At this moment his employer entered the room

'Oh sir cried Montin, it is there

'What? said the jeweller

'My diamond or rather yours Ah! don't touch it, we shall lose it for ever

'It is true it is certainly the diamond that has so tormented us but the difficulty is how [illegible] Wait a moment I know what to do

So saying [illegible] but quickly return[illegible] in his hand a net prepared [illegible] With this [illegible] and that of a long stick he proceeded carefully [illegible] Montin hardly daring to breathe watching all its movements with the greatest anxiety At last his efforts were crowned with success and he [illegible] Here it is Montin I congratulate you on its recovery I am now your debtor to the amount of nearly one hundred pounds What [illegible] do with the money?

I [illegible] is sir if you will be kind enough to keep it for me

Most willingly I will pay you the interest [illegible] will soon have a nice little sum [illegible] replied the jeweller

This was the beginning of Montin's fortune [illegible] partner [illegible] daughter [illegible] married [illegible] one of the principal jewellers [illegible]

Arctic Travel

[illegible]

This [illegible] gratifying success The party reached Boston last Friday [illegible] Dr Hayes has made extensive explorations of hitherto unvisited places and his [illegible] Mr Bradford [illegible] hundred photographic negatives and numerous valuable sketches and their companions had plenty of adventure and an abundance of shooting. The party went out in a chartered steamer from St John's Newfoundland leaving there July 3 and returning to the same place Sept 28 Meanwhile they steamed four thousand miles going and coming, and visited both coasts of Baffin Bay They reached as far north as the middle of Melville Bay latitude 7[illegible] degrees and encountered some rough handling in the Middle Pack

The season has been very unfavorable for the navigation of the upper waters of Baffin Bay and several whale ships are reported as unsuccessful in finding a passage in the quarter where our party had their hardest encounters with the thick [illegible] ice One vessel the Alexander was lost, but her crew was saved In Melville Bay many polar bears were seen, and they were lucky enough to shoot six The bears were literally run down by their powerful steamer ploughing through and tearing up the ice driving the game from ice field to ice field until they were finally brought to bay A curious incident of this novel chase was that while pursuing the bears the photographers (Messrs Dunmore & Critcherson) stationed on the top gallant forecastle, took the portraits of the bears while they ran a feat in the photographic art probably quite new and not likely to be repeated In this vicinity, at a place called the Devil's Thumb as well as at Aukpadlartok near Upernavik at Jacobshavn in Disko Bay and at Kraksimeut, South Greenland the party visited surveyed and photographed immense glaciers and in one instance made a considerable journey upon the great ice-sea or mer de glace which covers the interior of Greenland

From one of the glaciers they had a narrow escape Anchoring near its front which rose more than two hundred feet high in a perpendicular wall they were in the act of surveying and photographing it when they were suddenly startled by loud and deafening reports which were followed by the discharge of several enormous icebergs This disruption sent the waters rolling in gigantic waves down fiord, and it seems almost a miracle that in the fearful crash and disturbance which followed they were not dashed to pieces The photographing party was on the shore and barely escaped by climbing the rocks, while all their implements were crushed to atoms by the force of the waves, one of which is represented to have been thirty feet high Those Greenland glaciers are the source of all these icebergs which come down into the North Atlantic, to the great peril of ships and for the wonder of voyagers

They visited the numerous places of interest on the Greenland coast, beginning at Julianeshaab in the south and thence working north They have been entirely successful in every object of their voyage, have been singularly favored with good weather and good fortune

Not least among the objects of interest visited by the party was the old Norse ruin at Krakatok or Gardar, in South Greenland at which place there once flourished an extensive colony, founded in the year 986, a son of the founder, named Thorwald, being, in 1,001, the first discoverer of Newfoundland. Among the ruins of this ancient colony (which by all accounts was a very prosperous one) the party discovered the walls of an old cathedral, in a tolerable state of preservation. They produce many evidences that the climate of Greenland since the Norse occupation, has grown much colder

They paid a visit to the famous kryolite mine at Ivigtut, the only place in the world where that valuable mineral (which is almost pure soda) has been discovered, The annual production of the mine is about 12 000 tons the half of which is shipped to the United States

Besides polar bears, our voyagers found abundance of game, in the shape of birds many of which were shot, especially eider ducks The Greenland coast, like that of Labrador abounds in bird life during the summer many varieties of water fowl migrating there to breed

Among the most interesting places visited was Upernavick in latitude 72 deg 50 min the most northern point of Christian occupation on the globe At an outpost of that place they fell in with Dr Hayes old interpreter and dog manager Peter Jensen who was the only white man in the settlement and has now for many years lived hunted and prospered within a thousand miles of the pole

The party met with no serious accidents At the Duck Islands their vessel ran upon a sunken rock, but escaped without any very serious injury, and at Cape Desolation during a gale, they were in some peril from thick weather, and bad anchorage The stocks of both their anchors were carried away in the vain endeavor to hold on in a most dreary and forbidding place, where nobody has probably ever been before, or ever will be or perhaps wish to be again Of course they had their adventures with icebergs and ice floes, which was quite legitimate and to be expected. They were once badly "beset and their vessel was badly "nipped," while the young ice (in August?) was forming at an uncomfortably rapid rate, and everything betokened a winter in the drifting "pack But from this they were mercifully spared by a change of wind

The party was most hospitably received everywhere by the Danish officials and people in Greenland That country it is known is owned by Denmark and trading stations much after the manner of the Hudson's Bay Company are numerous along the coast

It is one of the most singular features of this summer voyage that much of it was performed in constant daylight For [illegible] successive days they saw the sun at midnight and during two months they never once lighted their lamps

The temperature was at no time very cold though fires were generally necessary in the cabin On one occasion the temperature rose to seventy degrees This was in Southern Greenland where they found many pleasant people and as a set-off to it an immense quantity of mosquitoes and tormenting flies by which Dr Hayes was once driven from the shore to the ship while in the act of surveying a glacier and Mr Bradford had the same [illegible] while sketching it

Altogether the success of the party has been remarkable and the amount of [illegible] and scientific materials [illegible] short voyage has [illegible] — [illegible] Transcript

HOAGLAND'S NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H R Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient safe and secure

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore [illegible] the best in use

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering [illegible] once from the effects of [illegible] indulgences, absorbed into the system Look at their [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken [illegible] constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of the [illegible] In his horrid [illegible] thousands suffer until death closes the scene [illegible] guardians friends attend to those who are [illegible] of these horrible [illegible] destroying [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late them immediately to Doctor Gibbon who has made private diseases his especial study [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate cases [illegible] cury or any injurious drugs It is important [illegible] who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of [illegible] pretended doctors who infest all cities, [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, [illegible] public by using the names of eminent [illegible] Europe and other places Be therefore [illegible] strict inquiry or you may fall into the [illegible] charlatans

Seminal Weakness,

Seminal Emissions is the consequence of solitary vice or depraved [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the [illegible] of morbid symptoms unless combatted by [illegible] local measures viz Sallow countenance, the eyes pain in the head ringing in the [illegible] the rustling of leaves and rattling of [illegible] about the loins weakness of the limbs, blunted intellect loss of confidence, [illegible] approaching strangers a dislike to form new [illegible] a disposition to shun society loss of [illegible] flushes; pimples and various eruptions furred tongue fetid breath coughs, [illegible] sweats in torments and frequent [illegible] not obtained should apply immediately [illegible] or by letter and have a cure effected by his [illegible] scientific mode of treating this disease which [illegible] effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G [illegible] Hundred Dollars to any person who will [illegible] rily to him that he was cured [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks
